Customer feedback:

"I had never resorted to a coach before. In an acute crisis situation that had already lasted for a month, I had the opportunity to speak to Felicitas von Elverfeldt twice a week, and she has lead me to the right behavioural strategy with a lot of clarity, adroitness and sympathetic understanding. In a real crisis, I strongly recommend to rely on such a professional coach as Mrs. von Elverfeldt is. You get a clear external view and save much time and power that you can rather use for your business in such situations."
